TRADITION ■ TEAMWORK ■ INTEGRITY

Dear Cornhusker Fans,

Welcome to the Bob Devaney Sports Center for today's game. We hope you have a wonderful experience and if there is anything you need help with, please ask. We have staff available to assist in making your gameday experience easier.

The basketball season is a highly anticipated time of year around the country. This season is especially exciting at Nebraska with Doc Sadler taking over the program. We found a coach who has all the credentials we were looking for: he is a proven recruiter who brings an exciting style of play to the floor every game.

I hope you have a chance to meet Coach Sadler before or after one of our games. I'm sure you will be encouraged with the changing direction of the program.

Coach Sadler has said from his first press conference that this is your team, that this is the state of Nebraska's team. He understands the incredible loyalty fans have provided Husker teams over the years and appreciates your support of the players and coaching staff. I hope you will continue to show him, the players and visitors to this great arena why Nebraska has the "Greatest Fans in College Athletics."

I look forward to seeing you at all of the games this year, cheering on the Huskers. Go Big Red!

Ten minutes into the Aug. 8 press conference announcing the new Nebraska men's basketball coach, fans already had heard everything they needed to get excited for the upcoming season.

The new coach said he has passion. He also mentioned that he keeps life – and the game – simple. He pointed out that he doesn't wear a watch because there are 24 hours each and every day; that's enough time to get it done.

And his teams are going to be aggressive and play hard. All the time. Period.

That last part ignited a renewed optimism within the state that Kenneth "Doc" Sadler was the right man for the job at the right time.

"Someone asked me why I would come to Nebraska. It's pretty simple," Sadler said. "I've got a chance to coach at a place that has had 233 academic All-Americans. I've got a chance to coach at a place that has won 22 national championships.

"You don't win national championships because of great coaches. I truly believe this. Because you've had 233 academic All-Americans, you've got some high-character people. And you've got an athletic department and a university that cares about kids. You do not have that kind of success just because of wanting it. You've got a lot of people working for that to happen. Because you've got everybody working together, you've won 22 national championships.

"What more could a coach want than that? I can't think of anything else."

Looking back on Sadler's career, it's obvious why Athletic Director Steve Pederson tabbed him to be the 26th coach in program history.

He's a veteran Division I coach who has been associated with 11 postseason teams. Only three times at this level has a team with Sadler on the sideline not played in the postseason.

He has an all-star coaching heritage after starting in the business at his home state school, Arkansas, with Hall of Fame Coach Eddie Sutton. That puts him same coaching family under Mr. Iba, a legend.

On top of that, Sadler helped 19 players reach the pinnacle of their sport – the National Basketball Association. He personally recruited eight of those players.

"In Coach Sadler, we have a man who will bring character, determination, toughness and a winning attitude to the Husker basketball program," Pederson said at the press conference. "Not only is he an excellent coach and recruiter, but he is the kind of family man that you want leading your program. I can't wait for Nebraska fans to get to know Coach Sadler."

That didn't take long.

Sadler's upbeat and energetic presence has been felt around the state as he has focused on getting fans excited again about the Nebraska basketball program, their basketball program. During the first two days following his hiring press conference, Sadler made public appearances in Lincoln and Omaha while being seen and heard in nearly every media outlet throughout the state. Since then he has criss-crossed the state, meeting with fans young and old, while also reconnecting the program with former players and high school coaches throughout Nebraska.

"This is your basketball team," Sadler has repeated throughout Big Red nation. "It's not Doc Sadler's basketball team. This is the state of Nebraska's basketball team and if you can help us with a suggestion, my door is open all the time. It's your basketball team. I understand that and I'll do everything I can to help you be proud of what we're going to do. I'm ready to roll."

Sadler, 46, brings an engaging personality and hard-nosed basketball style to the Big 12 Conference. One of six new coaches in the league in 2006-07, Sadler took over the Husker program after two impressive seasons as head coach at Texas-El Paso, where he helped continue the long-standing tradition of success in Miners basketball.

Sadler's UTEP teams boasted 48 victories over the past two years and won 72.7 percent of their games since the start of the 2004-05 season. Including his first season with the Miners as an assistant coach, Sadler helped UTEP to 72 victories over the past three years, ranking the Miners 20th nationally in victories during that span.

A native of Greenwood, Ark., Sadler made one of the most successful Division I coaching debuts in college basketball history, as his 2004-05 Miners squad ran to an impressive 27-8 record and an NCAA Tournament berth. UTEP won a school-record 14 Western Athletic Conference (WAC) games and its first WAC Tournament title in 15 years to earn the league's automatic bid to the Big Dance.

The 27 wins were one off the UTEP school record and rank Sadler seventh in NCAA history for victories by a first-year Division I coach. Only five coaches have won more than 30 games in their first year in Division I, including Jamie Dixon, who was hired at Pittsburgh before the 2003-04 season by current Nebraska Executive Associate A.D. Marc Boehm.

Sadler led UTEP to 21 victories in 2005-06 and an NIT berth while overcoming several injuries that depleted the team of its top scorers for a majority of the season. Sadler's squad relied on defense and finished the campaign ranked 15th nationally by allowing only 59.5 points per game. His disciplined approach showed on the court as the Miners placed ninth nationally with only 14.9 fouls per game and ranked 28th in rebounding margin (+4.7) after outrebounding 24-of-31 opponents.

The Miners went undefeated at home in league play and earned an 11-3 mark to rank third in the final standings. UTEP set a C-USA record by allowing just 56 points per game in conference play last year, and also allowed teams to hit just 40.6 percent from the floor on the year, the program's best mark since 1974.

While solid defense is a staple of his teams, Sadler understands the need to put creative scorers in a position to flourish. That was especially noticeable in his first UTEP team, as the 2005 Miners set the school record for points scored (2,616, 74.7 ppg), assists (579) and free throw percentage (.792).

Sadler helped two players, Omar Thomas and Filberto Rivera, earn first-team All-WAC honors in 2005, the first time UTEP had a pair of players on the first squad in 20 years. Thomas also earned MVP honors after an outstanding performance at the league

"From the moment I heard that Doc Sadler was a candidate for the Nebraska job, I thought he was the perfect choice. Nebraska needs a coach that has a recruiting niche like in the state of Texas and in the junior colleges. Doc fits that description to a T. I expect that Nebraska will be one of the teams fighting for postseason berths over the next couple seasons."

There were plenty of skeptics.

Rightfully so. The University of Nebraska grad had to beat unbeatable odds. Odds that took the shape of a 300-lb. Russian wrestler appropriately named the "Siberian Monster." An opponent who, for 13 years, had never lost in international competition.

And at the exact moment Rulon Gardner was declared champion, he defeated every skeptic who said he didn't stand a chance.

Dream big.

tournament. Last season, John Tofi, one of two 1,000-point scorers on the squad, was the third Miner to earn a first-team all-league certificate under Sadler.

The Miners gained three straight postseason appearances with Sadler on the bench. Before taking over as head coach, Sadler was an assistant under current Texas A&M head coach Billy Gillispie in 2003-04 when the Miners made their first NCAA Tournament appearance in more than a decade. UTEP tied the biggest turnaround in NCAA history that season as it went from six to 24 wins in Sadler's first season assisting the Miners.

Sadler honed his coaching skills in his native state as he served as a head coach in the junior college ranks for five years at Arkansas-Fort Smith from 1999 to 2003. The success at UTEP should have come as little surprise to anyone who knows Sadler, as he posted a 120-39 record in Fort Smith.

As a head coach, his teams have posted winning marks every season while six of his squads have won at least 20 games. Overall, he owns a 168-57 (.747) career record as a head coach.

Sadler served two stints at Arkansas-Fort Smith, first as an assistant coach (1988-91) and then again during the 1997-98 season. He took over as head coach and athletic director in 1998 and served in that capacity until 2003 when he left to join Gillispie at Texas-El Paso.

Sadler's teams won the Bi-State East Conference title each of his last four years at Arkansas-Fort Smith. The 2001 and 2002 NJCAA Region II Coach of the Year, Sadler led the Lions to the region title and an appearance in the NJCAA national tournament while winning 30 games each of those seasons. Off the court, his teams had a 95 percent graduation rate during his tenure and every sophomore over his last two seasons was awarded a scholarship to a four-year institution, including eight Division I scholarships.

Honing his administrative and fundraising skills, Sadler oversaw a department that posted a 72.4 winning percentage across all sports under his guidance while he also spearheaded efforts to build a new basketball arena for the university.

Considered by many to be a tremendous tactician and strategist, Sadler is equally as impressive on the recruiting paths. Sadler has signed eight players who have gone on to play in the NBA, including Michael Batiste, Tony Battie, Cory Carr, Mark Davis, Darwin Ham, Eddie House, Maurice Jeffers and Jason Sasser.

Sadler has also coached 11 other players who reached the NBA -- Greg Anderson, Mario Bennett, Randy Brown, Isaac Burton, Byron Irvin, Joe Klein, Andrew Lang, Ron Riley, Alvin Robertson, Darrell Walker and Rickie Winslow. Overall, Sadler's total is an impressive 19 former pupils who reached the highest level of professional basketball.

Sadler has a passion for winning, but it is his ability to build relationships and then develop players both on and off the court that served him well during his 12 years as an assistant coach. Along with his NBA and all-conference picks, Sadler has seen his players succeed in the classroom, including 10 Miners on the 2005-06 team who earned at least a 3.0 grade-point average in the first semester.

As an assistant coach, Sadler served stints at seven current Division I schools, including Arkansas (1982-85, under Coach Eddie Sutton), Lamar (1985-86, under Coach Pat Foster), Houston (1986), Chicago State (1987-88, under Coach Tommy Suits), Texas Tech (1991-94, under Coach James Dickey), Arizona State (1994-97, under Coach Bill Freider) and UTEP (2003-04, under Coach Billy Gillispie).

Over 12 full seasons as a Division I assistant coach, nine of his teams reached the postseason, including ASU's 1996 team that reached the Sweet 16 of the NCAA Tournament. At Texas Tech, Sadler helped the Red Raiders to the 1993 Southwest Conference title and an NCAA appearance. He recruited talent that helped the Red Raiders to a 28-1 record and a Sweet 16 appearance in 1996.

The energetic Sadler also served one season as a high school coach, guiding County Line High School to a 38-7 record. Sadler's late father, Charles, coached football at the high school level for more than 30 years in Arkansas, and Sadler's brother is currently head golf coach and assistant basketball coach at Fort Smith Southside High School.

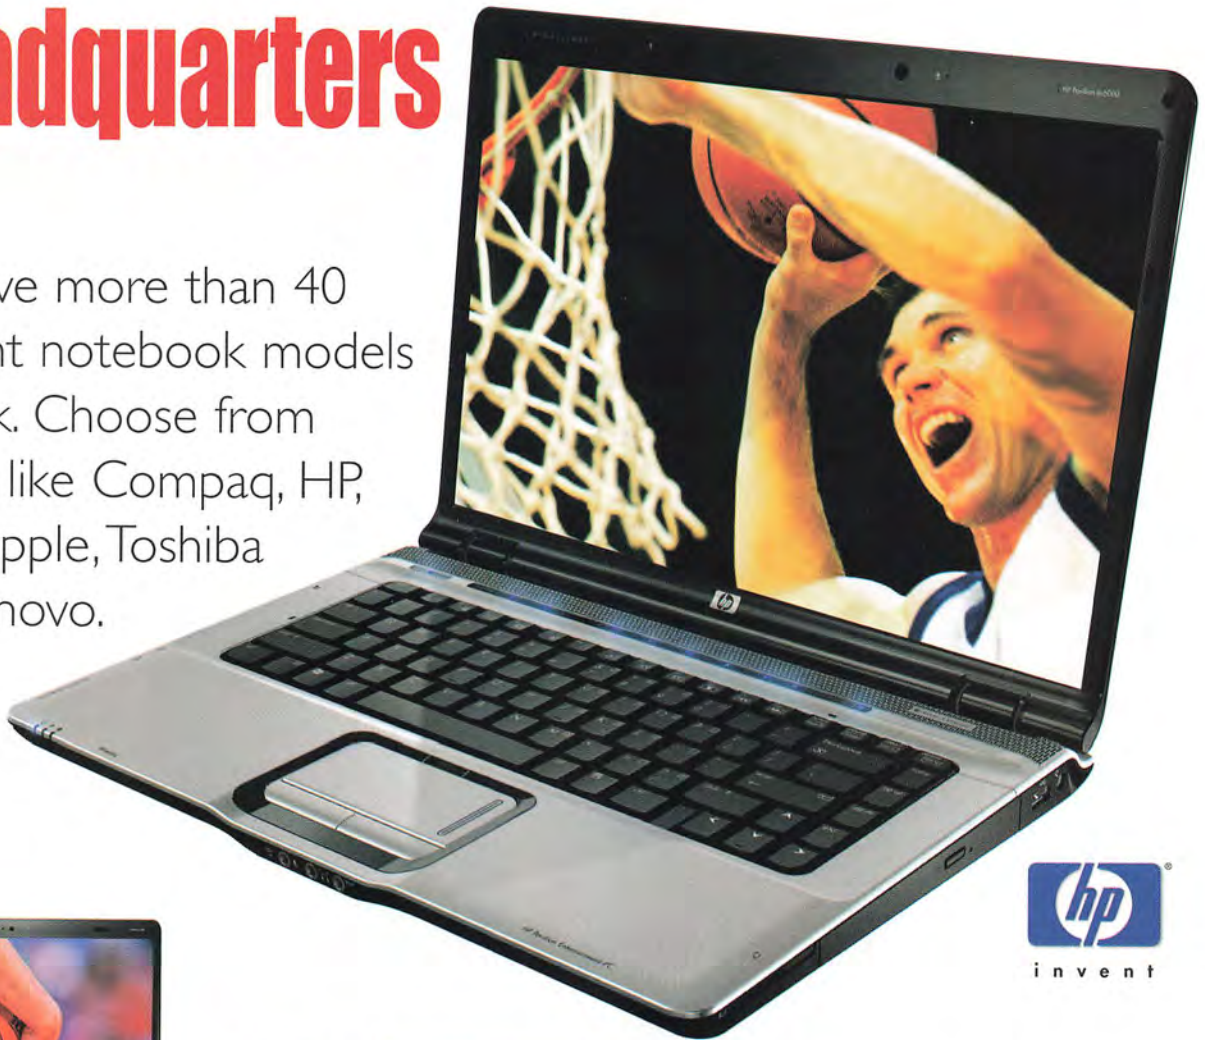

Sadler was a student manager for the Arkansas Razorbacks before beginning his collegiate coaching career following graduation in 1982. He added a masters of science degree in education from Northeastern State in 1991. Sadler and his wife, Tonya, who is also a native of Greenwood, Ark., have two sons, Landon (13) and Matthew (10).

Tony BENFORD

Assistant Coach
First Year
Texas Tech, 1992

Tony Benford was the first assistant hired at Nebraska for the 2006-07 season by first-year men's basketball head coach Doc Sadler. Benford originally joined Sadler's staff at Texas-El Paso in July before following Sadler to Nebraska in August.

Benford was added to the Miners' staff after eight seasons on the Arizona State bench where he served as an assistant coach for his first six years in Tempe. Benford was then named associate head coach for his last two seasons with the Sun Devils.

During his time at Arizona State (1999 to 2006), Benford recruited and coached Pac-10 Players of the Year Ike Diogu (2005) and Eddie House (2000), and also brought in all-freshman team performer Jeff Pendergraph in 2006. Benford helped the Sun Devils to four postseason appearances during his tenure, including gaining a spot in the second round of the 2003 NCAA Tournament.

Before joining the ASU staff, Benford spent six seasons as an assistant coach at New Mexico (1993 to 1998). He helped New Mexico to five NCAA Tournament bids while winning 73.2 percent of its games (139-51 record). New Mexico picked up a pair of Western Athletic Conference tournament titles (1993 and 1996) and a regular-season championship (1994) with Benford on the sideline. During his stint with the Lobos, Benford coached the top four scorers in program history, including all-time leading scorer Kenny Thomas, who Benford recruited to New Mexico.

Benford started his career coaching youth teams, including spending four years at All Saints School in Lubbock, Texas, where he served as head coach of the junior high squad.

Sadler and Benford have a long-standing friendship that dates back to their time together at Texas Tech. Sadler served three years as an assistant coach for the Red Raiders, recruiting several players that helped TTU to a conference title and NCAA Tournament appearance in 1993. Benford returned to the Lubbock, Texas, school to complete his degree in 1992.

Benford finished his playing career at Tech in 1986 and during his playing days, he helped Texas Tech to two Southwest Conference Tournament titles (1985, 1986) and the SWC regular-season championship in 1985. He was an all-conference pick as a senior and was the league tournament most valuable player.

A native of Hobbs, N.M., Benford was a 1986 fourth-round NBA Draft selection by the Boston Celtics. He played professionally in Holland during the 1986-87 season.

As a prep all-star, Benford was a Converse All-American and the New Mexico Player of the Year after pouring in 27.5 points per game as a senior. He led Hobbs to the state title in his final season, earning MVP honors of the state championship tournament after posting 29 points in the title game.

Benford and his wife, Deborah, have two daughters, Audriana (17) and Milena (9) and one son, Tony Jr. (14). Benford also has a son, Jeremy (24).

Philip MATHEWS

Assistant Coach
First Year
UC Irvine, 1972

A veteran recruiter and technician with more than 20 years experience as a head coach, Philip Mathews joined the Husker men's basketball staff as an assistant coach for the 2006-07 season.

Mathews returns to the Division I level for the first time since serving a head coach at San Francisco for nine years. Mathews took over the Dons program in time for the 1995-96 season and won at least 16 games in each of his first three seasons. Among the early highlights was the 1998 campaign when his squad posted a 19-11 mark that led to San Francisco's first NCAA Tournament appearance since 1982.

Two years later, Mathews again led SFU to another 19-win season. Two of his last three squads posted winning overall records and all three finished in the top four in the West Coast Conference standings. He finished his career with a 139-123 record in nine seasons at San Francisco.

Like first-year Nebraska coach Doc Sadler, Mathews honed his coaching skills in the junior college ranks. Mathews compiled a combined 349-73 record in 12 years as head coach at the junior college level and his squads won a conference title 11 times during his tenure.

Mathews' first stint as head coach at the junior college level came at Ventura College, where he spent 10 seasons (1986-95) compiling a 298-56 record. His teams won 10 straight Western States Conference titles. Before his arrival, Ventura had not won a league championship in 17 seasons.

All but one of his teams earned at least 20 victories and six times – including each of his last five years in charge – his teams won at least 30 contests. During the 1995 campaign, Ventura went 37-1 and ranked second nationally while winning the second California state junior college title under Mathews. Eleven players recruited to Ventura for that season earned Division I scholarships.

The past two seasons, Mathews was the head coach at San Bernardino Valley College, where he helped the Wolverines to a 51-17 record. In his first season in 2005, San Bernardino went 27-5 and won the conference title with a 13-1 record. That first team saw every player move on to a four-year school with a scholarship.

Mathews entered the coaching ranks as an assistant at UC Irvine for the 1973 season. He spent the next year at the high school level before returning to Irvine for four years (1975-78). Mathews then returned as head coach at Santa Ana Valley High School, where he won two league titles in three years.

If I have a sports injury, why is it important that I go to a sports injury therapist?

Do I need a prescription for therapy and rehab?

How will your techniques help me get back to my sport faster?

Once I'm done with treatment, how can you ensure I do not re-injure myself?

How qualified are your physical therapists and what is their range of experience?

Husker Sports Network

The Husker Sports Network came under new ownership in the fall of 2006, as Host Communications acquired the former Pinnacle Sports Network.

A well-known entity throughout college athletic marketing circles, Host Communications Inc. has marketing agreements with seven universities as well as the Southeastern Conference and NCAA Football. The Lexington, Ky.-based company also manages five associations, more than 30 web sites and has a printing and publishing division that produces more than 700 publications annually, including all of the NCAA championship game-day programs.

Kent Pavelka

HOST is a subsidiary of Triple Crown Media, Inc. TCMI owns and operates six daily newspapers with a total daily circulation of approximately 120,000 and owns and operates GrayLink, a wireless communications company based in Tallahassee, Fla. TCMI is a public company traded on NASDAQ and based in Lexington, Ky.

The Husker Sports Network will continue the strong tradition of broadcasting excellence established by the Pinnacle Sports Network, which had produced and marketed live broadcasts of University of Nebraska football, men's and women's basketball, volleyball, baseball and softball games for the past 10 years. Pinnacle was first awarded the rights on Feb. 9, 1996 and the University renewed the contract on Aug. 9, 2003, for an additional five-year term that runs until July 31, 2011.

All regular-season men's basketball games and any postseason contests will be broadcast by the network. A 25-station basketball network is in place for the 2006-07 season, with KFAB (1110 AM) serving as the Omaha affiliate, KLIN (1400 AM) as the Lincoln affiliate and KRNV (880 AM) serving as a third affiliate in the state.

Kent Pavelka makes a return behind the microphone to call Husker contests in 2006-07. Pavelka previously served as play-by-play announcer for Nebraska basketball for nearly 20 years, starting in 1974. He also handled color analyst duties on NU football broadcasts from 1974 to 1983, and was the play-by-play announcer from 1983 to 1996.

Alongside Pavelka for his fourth season as color analyst will be Matt Davison. A former Nebraska student-athlete, Davison lettered for the Husker basketball team in 2000 and was a four-year letterman for NU on the gridiron.

The Husker Sports Network will also carry a weekly radio show with Coach Doc Sadler, which can be heard statewide on the network on Monday nights at 7 p.m. during the season. All Nebraska games and coaches shows can also be heard on the Internet at Huskers.com.

Maywood, Ill.
Proviso East HS

Charles Richardson Jr. returns for his final season with the Huskers after starting 35 games over the past three seasons, including the final 21 games of last season when he averaged a career-best 4.4 points and 2.6 rebounds per game. On the defensive end, Richardson tied for the team lead with 34 steals and paced the squad by drawing 17 charging fouls.

Richardson steadied a young Husker attack by averaging 3.33 assists per contest to rank 10th in the Big 12. He had a 1.92:1 assist:turnover ratio to place fourth in the league and was the first Husker in four years to post triple-figure assists, as he dished out 100 assists.

Richardson opened 2006 Big 12 Conference play with a bang as he posted a career effort against nationally ranked Oklahoma. Richardson torched the No. 12 Sooners as he hit 4-of-6 field-goal attempts, including draining 3-of-5 from outside the arc, to score a career-best 15 points. He completed the solid effort with three rebounds and four assists in the upset.

As a sophomore, Richardson averaged 2.0 points, 1.7 rebounds and 2.1 assists per game and was third on the team with 54 assists.

In his first start of the season against Missouri on the road, Richardson picked up a season-high seven assists against one turnover while collecting three boards and one steal in 20 minutes. During the last seven games of the year, Richardson collected at least eight points three times, including a season-high 10 points in a victory over Colorado at home.

Richardson had a solid freshman season with the Huskers, as he played in all 31 contests, including 10 starts, while averaging 16.3 minutes per game. He averaged 2.2 points and 2.0 rebounds per game as a rookie while adding 17 steals.

Richardson added a team-high 66 assists (2.2 avg) against just 36 turnovers for a 1.83:1 assist:turnover ratio. During a six-game stretch between Dec. 29 at Minnesota and Jan. 21 against Baylor, Richardson recorded 21 assists against zero turnovers, including no turnovers in his first 91 minutes of Big 12 action.

In high school, Richardson was the top-ranked point guard in the state of Illinois as a senior when he led Proviso East to a 25-4 record and a top-25 regular-season national ranking. He averaged 15 points, eight assists, six steals and five rebounds per game, as Proviso East finished the season ranked 12th in the state.

The grandson of Dorothy and Thornton Callum, Charles is the son of Demetrius Callum and was born Oct. 12, 1984. Charles' mentor is Gene Mobley. Charles has two sisters, Takisha and Carolyn, and one brother, Dominique, and is majoring in English at Nebraska. Richardson chose NU over Marquette, DePaul, Mississippi State and Southern Illinois.

Marcus #4 PERRY

Senior • Guard
6-2 • 185
Anniston, Ala.
Anniston HS/Southern Union State CC

After redshirting his first year in the program, Marcus Perry had a solid season with the Huskers in 2005-06. He finished the year ranked fourth on the squad with 31 3-pointers and averaged 4.2 points per game while coming off the bench in 31-of-32 contests.

Perry missed the Chicago State contest when he was excused to be with his wife, who gave birth to their second daughter the day before. He returned to the squad for the next game two days later when he scored a career-high 13 points off the bench against North Carolina A&T.

Perry had his only foray into the starting lineup against Missouri at home when he played a career-high 22 minutes. Perry struggled a little over the next three games, but then hit his stride down the stretch to help Nebraska reach the postseason for the second time in three years. Over the final 11 games of the season, Perry hit 44.0 percent (22-of-50) from the field, including an impressive 47.5 percent (19-of-40) from 3-point range. Before his strong finish, Perry had hit just 12-of-46 (26.7 percent) from beyond the arc in his first 21 games.

Perry played a large role in Nebraska advancing to the semifinals at the Big 12 Championship when he hit 9-of-16 (56.3 percent) from the floor and 7-of-12 (58.3 percent) from 3-point range. Perry finished with nine points against the Sooners and came back in the semifinals to play 21 minutes while adding 10 points and two steals against Kansas.

Perry was a first-team all-region and honorable-mention All-America selection in 2003-04 when he ranked seventh nationally (NJCAA Division I) in scoring average with 25.4 points per game for Southern Union State Community College. Perry hit 42.0 percent from the field and knocked down 107 3-pointers on the year.

Perry recorded a season-high 46 points on 16-of-28 shooting from the floor, including 8-of-16 from 3-point range, against Wallace State-Hanceville. He scored at least 30 points nine times in 2003-04 and reached the 40-point plateau twice.

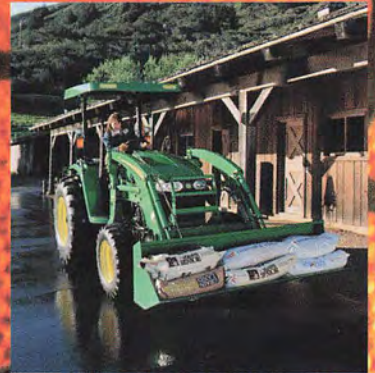

Before starting his college career, Perry led Anniston High School to the 2002 Alabama 5A state title as a senior, helping the team to a 26-8 record. He averaged 24 points, eight rebounds and five assists per game to earn all-state honors.

The son of Linda Heflin and Kevin Perry Sr. and the grandson of Florette Perry, Marcus was born Feb. 10, 1984, and has two sisters, Samon Byrd and Latishia Perry, and one brother, Kevin Perry Jr. Marcus is majoring in communication studies at Nebraska. Sydeny, Australia
Australian Institute for Sport/Life Center (N.J.)

Back for his third season with the Huskers, Aleks Maric is the top returning big man in the Big 12 Conference in 2006-07. Maric, who entered his name in the NBA Draft last summer before deciding to return to Lincoln, averaged 10.9 points per game while posting 8.1 rebounds per contest last season.

Maric's rebounding total ranked third among all Big 12 players and his 251 rebounds were the third-highest total by a Nebraska sophomore in school history and ranked 11th on the Husker single-season chart. Maric posted 10 double-doubles on the year, including a Big 12-leading seven in conference play. His 10 double-doubles tied the Husker sophomore record set previously by Venson Hamilton (who went on to become the 1999 Big 12 Player of the Year) and Carl McPipe.

Defensively Maric picked up the pace in the conference season as he posted 23 of his blocked shots against Big 12 teams. He finished the league campaign ranked seventh in the conference-only standings and moved into fifth on the NU sophomore season chart.

Maric scored double-figure points in 11 of 16 conference games, including setting the Nebraska and Big 12 Conference sophomore record with a 37-point effort in a road victory at Iowa State. Maric hit 13-of-15 attempts from the field while posting 16 rebounds and four blocked shots. The 37 points were the fifth highest total in school history.

As a freshman in 2004-05, Maric averaged 8.0 points with a team-high 6.3 rebounds per game. Maric ranked 11th in the Big 12 Conference and was second among freshmen in rebounding. Maric helped NU rank first in all games rebounding margin (+5.4) and second in rebounding average in all games (38.3). He recorded a double-double in his first career game and went on to tie the NU freshman record with three double-doubles on the season.

Maric came to the United States in October 2003, and quickly made an impact. In one season of high school basketball at Burlington (N.J.) Life Center, Maric averaged 19 points and 12 rebounds per game for Coach Darryl Gladden.

Maric began his basketball career at the Australian Institute for Sport, where he averaged 10 points and 13 rebounds in 2002-03. He went on to help the Australian Under-20 National Team win the gold medal at the World Championships in Greece in 2003.

Aleks, whose given name is Aleksandar, is the son of Stevan and Draginja Maric and was born Oct. 22, 1984. He has three sisters, Branka, Milijana and Aleksandra. MARKS

Sophomore • Forward
6-7 • 225
Riviera Beach, Fla.
Dwyer HS

After providing valuable minutes as a reserve last year, Kyle Marks returned this season looking to take on an expanded role for the Huskers. While he still could see that happen, Marks' progress was slowed as he missed a majority of the preseason while recovering from surgery on his ACL.

When healthy, Marks provides Nebraska with an athletic wing player with great reach. Last year, he played in 24 games during his rookie season and averaged 1.0 points and 0.9 rebounds per contest while hitting 50.0 percent (9-of-18) from the floor and 5-of-7 (71.4 percent) from the charity stripe. He also had three blocked shots and four steals.

Marks made an impression on his teammates and coaches with his work in the weight room during his first year in Lincoln as he was named the team's lifter of the year. Marks improved his squat max by 100 pounds and bench max by 40 pounds while adding 20 pounds of body weight and increasing his vertical jump by 1 1/2 inches.

Before coming to Nebraska, Marks averaged 10 points, eight rebounds and five blocks per game as a senior at Dwyer High School. Playing for Coach Fred Ross, Marks helped Dwyer to a 28-5 record as a senior and its second straight Class 5A state title. Marks finished his career as the school's all-time leader in blocks with 275.

Marks earned all-conference honors in 2005 and was selected first-team all-state by the coaches association and third-team all-state by the Florida Sports Writers Association. He was also named first-team all-county by the Palm Beach Post and Sun Sentinel, and was the winner of the FHSAA dunk contest.

Marks averaged 12 points, six rebounds and five blocked shots for Dwyer as a junior. He helped Dwyer to a 25-3 record in 2004 and the Class 5A state title.

After a strong summer circuit in 2004 with the Tallahassee Wildcats, Marks was one of five Division I signees in the Wildcats' program, with the other four signing with Florida, Florida State, Cincinnati and Virginia. Marks' teammate at Dwyer High School, Alonzo Gee, also signed to play with Alabama.

Marks helped the Tallahassee Wildcats win more than 30 games during the summer season. Among their championships were tournament titles at the Charlie Weber Classic, Coast-to-Coast Invitational and the adidas Showtime National Championships.

The son of Shirley and Kerry Marks, Kyle was born Aug. 17, 1987, and has four sisters, Tralanda, Nadine, Salina and Tawana, and one brother, Kerry. He chose the Huskers after receiving interest from Florida, Florida State and Dayton.

Sophomore • Guard

Blacksburg, Va.
Blacksburg HS

For the second year in a row, Paul Velander (vuh-land-er) was sidelined at the start of preseason practice with an injury. When healthy, Velander's impressive long-range shooting could provide another valuable weapon in Doc Sadler's up-tempo offense.

Last year, Velander suffered a preseason injury in his left ankle that required surgery and he was relegated to the bench for the majority of the campaign. After redshirting his first year at Nebraska, Velander saw action in just two contests in 2005-06 for a total of three minutes. The walk-on played his first career game against Baylor, and notched his lone assist of the season. He also saw two minutes against Colorado in the Huskers' victory at home.

Prior to joining the Huskers, Velander averaged 16.8 points with 5.3 rebounds per game as a senior at Blacksburg High School in Blacksburg, Va. He added 3.0 assists and a solid 2.7 steals per contest. A threat from outside the arc, Velander hit 41 percent from 3-point range in 2004. He also led the team in free throw percentage four straight seasons, including hitting 82 percent at the line as a senior. Velander was also named the team's defensive player of the year.

Velander earned first-team All-Blue Ridge Conference honors as a senior under Coach Doug Day, and was named to the all-district tournament team. He was selected to play in the VHSCA All-Star Players Game following his senior season, where he scored 11 points for the West.

A varsity starter all four years, Velander averaged more than 10 points per game all four seasons. He recorded more than 1,000 career points and hit better than 40 percent from 3-point range for his career. As a sophomore, Velander led Blacksburg to the state title game where it lost by three points. He averaged a tournament-best 19.5 points while hitting 9-of-15 attempts from 3-point range.

White hit 7-of-9 attempts from the floor, including all four of his 3-point tries. The only NU freshman to score more points in a single game was current NBA veteran Tyronn Lue, who had 30 points in a game as a rookie in 1996.

Over the final 11 games of the year, White was second on the team with 13.5 points per contest while hitting 39.5 percent from the field, including 38.1 percent behind the arc. The Big 12 Conference

Fresh off its 10th anniversary season, the Big 12 Conference begins its second decade of competition in 2006-07. While there have been many proud accomplishments through the first 10 years, the conference and its members anticipate continued success.

Through its first 10 years, the Big 12 claimed 28 team and 310 individual NCAA titles. Last year, conference programs captured national championships in football (Texas), women's indoor track & field (Texas), wrestling (Oklahoma State) and men's golf (Oklahoma State).

Kevin Weiberg
Commissioner

In addition, 12 individual event titles were also won by student-athletes that compete in the Big 12.

The previous season marked the most successful in conference history with six NCAA championships. Baylor won the crown for women's basketball, becoming the first Big 12 squad to win in that sport. Colorado won both the men's and women's cross country trophies, just the fourth school in NCAA annals to win both in the same year. Oklahoma State regained the top spot in wrestling, winning the national title for the 33rd time. Texas captured its fourth women's outdoor track & field crown, along with its sixth national championship in baseball.

The Big 12 leads all conferences with five appearances in the BCS National Championship game. A Big 12 team has played for the football national championship five of the last six years, and each of the last three. In basketball, an unprecedented eight men's and women's basketball teams have advanced to their respective Final Fours in the past five seasons as the Big 12 continues its place among the elite intercollegiate athletic conferences.

The Big 12 and its member institutions are committed to a competitive environment where sportsmanship and fair play take center stage. Whether on the field, in the classroom, or within the community the student-athletes, administrators, coaches and game officials of the Big 12 support the highest ideals in sportsmanship.

Competitive excellence, scholarships and sportsmanship are all equal components of the Big 12's philosophy. All-Big 12 teams and All-Big 12 Academic squads are recognized for each sport at the end of their respective seasons.

At the end of each academic year, the Conference honors its top male and female student-athletes with the Big 12 Athlete of the Year and Big 12 Sportsman of the Year awards. Institutions can also nominate student-athletes for the prestigious Dr. Prentice Gautt Postgraduate Scholarships at the end of each academic year. A total of 153 scholars have received more than $845,000 in postgraduate financial aid through the first nine years of the program.

The Big 12 sponsors 21 sports with men's squads in baseball, basketball, cross country, football, golf, indoor track & field, outdoor track & field, swimming & diving, tennis and wrestling. Women's teams are fielded in basketball, cross country, golf, gymnastics, indoor track & field, outdoor track & field, soccer, softball, swimming, tennis and volleyball.

The conference consists of 12 institutions that have shared many traditional rivalries throughout their histories, including Baylor, Colorado, Iowa State, Kansas, Kansas State, Missouri, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Oklahoma State, Texas, Texas A&M and Texas Tech.

The institutions created a league that encompasses seven states, over 42 million people and more than 18 million television households within its geographic footprint.

The conference conducts championships for 20 of its 21 sports. Each championship helps to determine teams and/or individuals that will represent the Conference in national postseason competition. The winner of the Big 12 football championship game earns the league's berth into the prestigious Bowl Championship Series.

The Big 12 is under the direction of its third commissioner, Kevin L. Weiberg, who took over the reins in December 1998. Weiberg has led the Big 12 into additional football bowl agreements and expanded television opportunities for all sports through contracts with ABC/ESPN, FSN, TBS and CSTV.

In its 10-year history, the conference has distributed $807.2 million to its 12 member institutions.

The Big 12 staff administers to over 4,600 student-athletes in 21 sports. The conference headquarters moved to Irving, Texas, from Dallas in August 2006.

The Phillips 66 Big 12 Men's Basketball Championship will be played at the Ford Center in Oklahoma City, Okla., in 2007. The Ford Center served as the home arena for the New Orleans Hornets last year following Hurricane Katrina.

Jack Moore Award (Team MVP)

For the second straight season and only the fourth time since the award's inception, two players – seniors Jason Dourisseau and Wes Wilkinson – shared the Jack Moore Award as the most outstanding player for the Nebraska men's basketball team in 2006.

Dourisseau became just the fifth Husker to earn the honor from his teammates twice, as he was also co-MVP as a junior. A 6-6 guard, Dourisseau finished the 2006 season averaging 11.3 points and 7.3 rebounds with three double-doubles. His rebound total ranked among the top 10 in the Big 12 Conference and was 16th in NU single-season history.

Wilkinson led the team with 11.9 points while adding 6.2 rebounds per game. He paced the Huskers with 61 blocked shots to rank 10th on the Nebraska single-season chart while his team-best 62 3-pointers ranked ninth on the single-season chart. He finished his career ranked in the Husker top 10 for blocks and 3-pointers.

The award is named for late-Husker guard Jack Moore, a 5-9 playmaker who set 17 school records in a career that ended in 1982. Moore's career culminated with the 1982 Francis Pomeroy-Naismith Award as the nation's best collegiate player under six feet tall. A consensus All-Big Eight performer in 1982, Moore was killed in a plane crash in March of 1984.

Eric Piatkowski was one of three former Huskers selected in the first round of the NBA Draft in the 1990s.

Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame

Eric Piatkowski, a 13-year veteran of the NBA and one of only two former Huskers to play in four straight NCAA Tournaments, was the most recent inductee into the Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame as he was enshrined at ceremonies on Feb. 18, 2006, at halftime of the Nebraska-Texas Tech game. Piatkowski is the fourth player from the 1990-91 squad that won a school-record 26 games to be inducted into the hall, joining Rich King (inducted in 2001), Clifford Scales (2002) and Beau Reid (2003).

A native of Rapid City, S.D., Piatkowski lettered from 1991 to 1994 while helping the Huskers to four straight NCAA Tournament appearances and an 85-39 career record including three 20-win seasons. He finished his career with 1,934 points to rank second in school history and is one of only two Huskers with at least 200 3-pointers in a career.

NU finished the 1990-91 season with its highest ranking ever at No. 9 by UPI and No. 11 by the Associated Press while gaining a 26-8 record. Piatkowski was the Most Valuable Player of the 1994 Big Eight Tournament as a senior and set the school single-game record in the first round by scoring 42 points in a 105-88 win over Oklahoma.

Following his senior season, Piatkowski was the second player in program history to be taken in the first round of the NBA Draft, going to the Indiana Pacers with the No. 15 selection. After being traded on draft day to the Los Angeles Clippers, Piatkowski has also played with the Houston Rockets, Chicago Bulls and is now with the Phoenix Suns for 2006-07. He has played in more than 740 career games in the NBA while averaging 7.8 points and 2.3 rebounds per contest. He is the Clippers' all-time leader in 3-pointers (738) and 3-point percentage (40.2) and is second in games played with 616.

The Nebraska Men's Basketball Hall of Fame was the brainchild of longtime Husker athletic supporter Jerry Solomon, who first approached the University about the project in the fall of 1988. Solomon, along with Jack Bock, Dale Herman and Dale Jensen, provided financial support for the Hall of Fame.

The Hall is co-sponsored by the Nebraska Athletic Department and the Rebounders Club. Memorabilia on nearly every Husker Hall of Famer is on display at the Walk of Fame on the upper concourse at the Devaney Center.

The first class was inducted in 1989 with 11 members. Since then, 59 players and coaches have been inducted into the Hall of Fame, including 10 classes with at least three members. The largest class since the initial induction was in 1996 when six players and one former coach were inducted into the Hall.

Eighteen people who have played supporting roles in shaping the Nebraska basketball program have also been enshrined by earning the Bug Cuca Special Merit Award. The award was renamed in honor of Cuca in 2003 after he passed away following a battle with cancer. Cuca and Ed Childress were the first-ever recipients of the award in 1989.

In 2003, the first Distinguished Hall of Fame Alumni Award was given, honoring a former player and Hall of Fame member who has been a positive force in the state and local community since his playing days ended.

Former Husker great Eric Piatkowski, who led NU to four straight NCAA Tournament appearances as a player, was inducted into the Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame in 2006.

Bob Devaney Sports Center

Named after longtime athletic director and football coach Bob Devaney, the Bob Devaney Sports Center is home to the Nebraska men's and women's basketball, gymnastics, women's swimming and diving, track and field and wrestling teams.

The Bob Devaney Sports Center received extensive renovations in 2000, featuring two HuskerVision replay screens, hustle stat boards and digital message boards. The new sound system, lighting system and ring of honor add to the atmosphere in the arena, as does the addition of chairback seating on the arena floor.

Also in 2000, fans at the Devaney Center saw the addition of a Husker Hall of Fame and a Husker Walk of Fame. The displays in the concourse areas highlight more than 100 years of Nebraska athletics and more than 25 years of women's athletics at the university. In 2004, courtside seating was put in place.

With a capacity of 13,595, the Devaney Center has hosted numerous NCAA postseason events since opening its doors in 1976. The Husker men's basketball team has enjoyed playing on the Devaney Center court, as NU has an all-time record of 356-114 at home. Nebraska has posted less than eight home victories just once (1976-77) in the 30-year history of the Devaney Center.

The Husker men's basketball team has seen recent renovations to the team's locker room and ready room, as well as in the coaches' offices. Renovations in the locker room in 2002 included an expanded area for dressing and team meetings, a new entryway and an audio/visual center for watching game film. In 2004, the court was refinished, and was redesigned for just the third time ever, giving it a more classic look. In the fall of 2006, the coaches offices and reception area also underwent a significant renovation.

The Devaney Center boasts a top-notch weight room in the facility, making strength training a useful tool before or after practice. The weight room is part of three weight rooms available to NU student-athletes, as the Husker Power program is the model of excellence in strength training for schools around the nation.

Compliance Guidelines for Boosters

The University of Nebraska Athletic Department takes great pride in abiding by the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) and the Big 12 Conference rules and guidelines that govern Division I competition. For the benefit of the many alumni, fans and booster club members who are so active in supporting and assisting the Huskers throughout the year, we would like to remind everyone of a few definitions and rules that apply to all athletic representatives and boosters.

NCAA Principles

Institutional Control

It is the responsibility of the University of Nebraska to control its intercollegiate athletic program in compliance with the rules and regulations of the NCAA.

Responsibility

The University of Nebraska's responsibility for the conduct of its program includes responsibility for the actions of its staff members and for the actions of any other individual, booster or organization engaged in activities promoting the athletic interests of the institution.

Compliance

The University of Nebraska must monitor its program to assure compliance and to identify and report to the NCAA instances in which compliance has not been achieved. An institution found to have violated NCAA rules is subject to disciplinary and corrective actions as determined by the NCAA.

NCAA Definitions

Athletic Representative/Booster

You are considered to be a University of Nebraska athletic representative if you:

- Are a present or past member of a University of Nebraska booster club or agency that promotes the Huskers' intercollegiate athletic program;
- Have made financial contributions to the athletic department or to an athletic booster organization of the University of Nebraska;
- Are, or have been, providing benefits (e.g., summer jobs, meals etc.) to enrolled student-athletes, their family members or friends;
- Are, or have been involved in any manner of promoting the University of Nebraska intercollegiate athletic program.

Please note: Once an individual is identified as an athletic representative, that person retains that identity indefinitely. The University of Nebraska is ultimately responsible for the acts of all "representatives of athletic interests" in relation to NCAA rules and regulations.

Prospective Student-Athlete

A prospective student-athlete is a student who has started classes for the ninth grade or above, including students in prep schools and junior colleges as well as students who have officially withdrawn from a four-year institution and plan to transfer to another institution. In addition, a student who has not started classes for the ninth grade becomes a prospective student-athlete if the institution or a Nebraska booster provides the individual or the individual's relatives or friends with any financial assistance or benefits that the institution does not provide to prospective students in general. A good rule of thumb is to treat ALL STUDENTS as prospects.

Student-Athlete

A student-athlete is a student whose enrollment was solicited by a member of the Nebraska athletic staff or other representative of athletic interests with a view toward the student's ultimate participation in the intercollegiate athletic program.

Contact

A contact is any face-to-face encounter between a prospect, or the prospect's parent or legal guardian, and a Nebraska staff member or athletic representative during which any dialogue occurs.

Recruiting

Recruiting is any solicitation of a prospect or a prospect's family member (or guardian) by an institutional staff member or by athletic representative of the institution, for the purpose of securing the prospect's enrollment and ultimate participation in Nebraska's intercollegiate athletic program.

Guidelines and Reminders for Boosters

- A booster may not contact the prospect, prospect's coach, principal or counselor in an attempt to evaluate or recruit the prospect.
- A booster may not expend funds to entertain or provide transportation for a prospective student-athlete, the prospect's family members or friends.
- A booster may not become directly or indirectly involved in making arrangements for a prospect, or the prospect's relative or friends to receive money or financial aid of any kind.
- A booster may not contact a prospective student-athlete through letter writing, e-mail, telephone calling, text messaging, other forms of communication, etc.

However, here are a few ways that a Husker booster may be involved:

- You may discuss summer employment opportunities with a prospect after he/she has signed a National Letter of Intent with the University of Nebraska.
- You may attend high school athletic events without contacting prospective student-athletes.
- You may continue existing friendships with families and friends of prospective student-athletes.
- You may send recommendation letters, newspaper clippings or similar information about prospective student-athletes to Husker coaches.

Extra Benefit Guidelines and Reminders for Boosters

Extra Benefit

An extra benefit is any special arrangement by a Nebraska employee or an athletic representative to provide a student-athlete or the student-athlete's relative or friend a benefit not expressly authorized by NCAA legislation.

Boosters may not provide any special arrangement considered to be an extra benefit by NCAA definition. Examples of extra benefits include but are not limited to:

- Providing cash or loans of any amount;
- Signing or co-signing for a loan or other forms of financial assistance;
- Providing use of a telephone or calling card to make local or long distance calls;
- Transporting a student-athlete or providing the use of a vehicle;
- Providing free or reduced rent housing;
- Giving gifts of any kind (i.e. birthday, Christmas, Valentine's Day);
- Promising a student-athlete postgraduate education or employment;
- Offering free services (i.e. clothing, airline tickets, laundry, car repair, haircuts, restaurant meals);
- Providing payment to a student-athlete for a booster club speaking engagement;
- Providing employment for a prospect's relatives or friends.

Here are a few ways that a Husker booster may help:

- Do invite a student-athlete to participate in non-profit, charitable or educational events, but make sure to contact the compliance office for approval before the event.
- Do invite a student-athlete into your home for an occasional meal.
- Do pay a student-athlete the commensurate rate for actual and legitimate employment.

If you choose to assist in any of the ways described above, please contact the compliance office to receive prior approval.

For further information regarding NCAA Guidelines for Athletic Representatives, please contact the athletic compliance office at (402) 472-2042 or 1-(800) 927-7220. Inquiries may also be mailed to: Athletic Compliance Office, One Memorial Stadium, P.O. Box 880219, Lincoln, NE, 68588-0219. The University of Nebraska

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln is the primary research and doctoral degree-granting institution in Nebraska. As Nebraska's land-grant university, it serves as the flagship institution of the University of Nebraska system. Officially chartered Feb. 15, 1869, the University of Nebraska-Lincoln grew quickly to become one of the nation's leading state universities. With a proud tradition of excellence in research and creative activity, the University of Nebraska was one of the pioneers in research and graduate studies, being the first university west of the Mississippi to form a graduate school and to offer the Ph.D. In 1909, the University of Nebraska became the 18th member of the Association of American Universities.

Today UNL ranks among the top 50 institutions awarding the most doctoral degrees. It is a major research university, ranked in the top 25 among public universities for total endowment assets and new gifts. It is home to top researchers in such areas as plant genomics, remote sensing technologies, molecular virology, bioinformatics, food processing and nanoscale technology.

Consistent with its role as the state's comprehensive educational institution, UNL offers 140 undergraduate majors and 118 graduate degree programs. With 22,000 students enrolled at UNL, all of Nebraska's 93 counties are represented in the student body, along with students from all 50 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and 88 foreign countries.

The university comprises eight undergraduate colleges, including Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources, Architecture, Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Education and Human Sciences, Engineering, Hixson-Lied College of Fine and Performing Arts, and Journalism and Mass Communications. It also has a division of graduate studies and the College of Law.

A Comprehensive Education Program embodies the ideals of a liberal arts education. The program acquaints all undergraduates with basic research tools and the global human context, and introduces them to an array of academic subject areas. It emphasizes strong written and oral communication skills and critical thinking. A co-curricular component encourages student leadership and involvement in campus activities and in the wider community.

Among the newest buildings on campus are Donald E. Othmer Hall, home to chemical engineering facilities, and the Esther L. Kauffman Academic Residential Center, home to the J.D. Edwards Honors Program in Computer Science and Management. The new Van Brunt Visitors Center and the Mary Riepma Ross Media Arts Center greet campus guests and give graphic arts, new media and film a new home. The Hewitt Center is home to several galleries and the Center for Great Plains Studies, an important interdisciplinary center dedicated to the unique Great Plains region.

Faculty members at UNL have earned wide recognition as scholars and scientists. Professor of English Ted Kooser is a Pulitzer-prize winning poet and was the U.S. Poet Laureate in 2004-06. James Van Etten, professor of plant pathology at UNL, is a member of the National Academy of Sciences. Geoscientist David Harwood is leading an international team of scientists drilling beneath the Antarctic ice to recover sedimentary cores to reveal information about Antarctica's climate history and about the global climate machine. Nebraska Center for Virology Director Charles Wood is learning how HIV transmits from infected mothers to children in Zambia.

The new multi-million-dollar Diocles Extreme Light Laboratory and physicist Donald Umstadter are putting UNL at the forefront of international high-field physics and laser research. Diocles will enable UNL physicists to create extreme conditions in the laboratory, similar to those at the core of the sun, to study matter and energy in new ways. The laser also can create significant new technologies such as producing protons for improved cancer treatments or generating x-rays that could detect hidden nuclear materials in steel cargo containers.

The university reaches thousands of citizens across the state each year through outreach activities. The Cooperative Extension Division provides all Nebraskans with information and assistance in agriculture and natural resources, home economics, family living, 4-H and community resource development. An extensive Extended Education and Outreach program offers alternatives to formal on-campus education with Internet courses, summer reading courses, evening classes, independent study by correspondence, telecourses and study tours.

A number of specialized centers offer assistance to the state's citizens. The Food Processing Center has helped hundreds of businesses with everything from product development to marketing, and Technology Development expedites university-developed knowledge into real-world products and processes.

The campus is home to the renowned Sheldon Memorial Art Gallery and Sculpture Garden, the Christlieb Collection of Western Art, the Robert Hillestad Textiles Gallery and several other galleries. The International Quilt Study Center, with more than 1,200 historic quilts in its collection, is housed at UNL, with a new facility under construction. The Lied Center for Performing Arts presents major performing artists, and the University of Nebraska State Museum boasts a world-class fossil collection.

Among the university's renowned alumni are naturalist and author Loren Eiseley; Nobel prize-winners George Beadle, Donald Cram and Alan Heeger; artists Aaron Douglas and Weldon Kees; investor Warren Buffet; comedian Johnny Carson; singer Barbara Hendricks; artist and engineer Harold Edgerton; military officer John J. Pershing; and authors Willa Cather and Mari Sandoz.

Students from all 50 states and 88 foreign countries call Lincoln home while studying in one of eight undergraduate colleges. UNL also offers divisions in graduate studies and a College of Law.

Board of Regents

J.B. Milliken, J.D.

University of Nebraska

University of Nebraska System

The Board of Regents consists of eight voting members elected by district for six-year terms, and four non-voting student Regents, one from each campus, who serve during their tenure as student body president. The board supervises the general operations of the university, and the control and direction of all expenditures. The board also includes a corporation secretary who manages all records including agendas, minutes, notices, policies and bylaws. Those documents can be found on the web at <http://www.nebraska.edu/board/>

The board meets regularly, primarily in Lincoln but also in Omaha and greater Nebraska. Persons wishing to provide information to the board or to appear before it should contact: Corporation Secretary, University of Nebraska, Varner Hall, 3835 Holdrege, Lincoln, NE 68583.

Josephine (Jo) R. Potuto, the Richard H. Larson Professor of Constitutional Law, has been Nebraska's faculty representative to the NCAA and Big 12 Conference since May 15, 1997.

Potuto was appointed in January 2003 to hold one of the Big 12 Conference's three seats on the NCAA Division I Management Council, the chief administrative and legislative body of Division I. She is in her sixth year as a member of the Division I Committee on Infractions (COI) and her second as committee vice chair. The COI meets six times annually to conduct hearings, make findings of culpability and impose sanctions on institutions for violations of NCAA bylaws.

Potuto also serves on a committee of the Division I-A Athletic Directors Association that reviews NCAA legislation and tracks the NCAA governance structure.

Among her Big 12 Conference committee responsibilities, Potuto served on the Big 12 Conference Commissioner Search Committee and on the conference strategic planning committee. She is the conference liaison to the Faculty Athletics Representatives Association (FARA), where she also served as the Division I representative on the executive committee. In 2002, Potuto was named Outstanding Faculty Athletics Representative by the All-American Football Foundation.

Potuto is an expert on issues related to gender equity in collegiate sports. With regard to other current issues in sports, Potuto is a past adviser to the Uniform Law Commissioners Committee to draft a sports agent statute, and she also drafted rules governing search and seizure and hearings for the Nebraska Racing Commission.

At Nebraska, Potuto is an ex officio member of the academic senate's intercollegiate athletics committee and of the subcommittee to evaluate academic support services. She was vice chairwoman of the rules governance committee of Nebraska's NCAA site certification committee, and she chairs the athletic department's NCAA Legislation Committee.

Potuto was project director and a drafter of the Uniform Law Commissioners Sentencing and Corrections Act, as well as the drafter for the Nebraska Supreme Court Committee to Draft Criminal Jury Instructions. She is the author of three books and numerous articles.

Potuto teaches constitutional, procedural and criminal law as well as a course in sports law. She joined the Nebraska law faculty as an assistant professor in 1974 and was named to the Larson professorship in 1988. Potuto has been a visiting professor of law at the University of Arizona, Rutgers University, the Cardozo College of Law at New York's Yeshiva University, the University of Oregon, the University of North Carolina, and Seton Hall University. While on sabbatical during the 1983-84 academic year, Potuto was an assistant prosecutor in the Essex County (Newark, N.J.) prosecutor's office. She also spent five summers working in the prosecutor's office in Morris County, N.J.

Potuto earned her bachelor's degree in journalism at Rutgers' Douglass College and her master's degree in English literature at Seton Hall in 1971. She received her juris doctorate at the Rutgers Law College in 1974. She is a member of the bar of the U.S. Supreme Court, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit and the U.S. District Courts for Nebraska and New Jersey.

Steve Pederson

Athletic Director

Tradition, Teamwork, Integrity. These are the core values of the Husker Nation and the principles of champions. Steve Pederson was named his alma mater's 12th athletic director on Dec. 20, 2002, and quickly established these ideals as the driving force to guide Nebraska back to the pinnacle of collegiate athletics.

Pederson's first priority was improving Nebraska's facilities, an important step in providing the Huskers with another way to attract the best student-athletes in the country. In November of 2003, Pederson announced the Husker Nation Championship Drive, a $50 million fund-raising project to support the creation of the Tom and Nancy Osborne Athletic Complex, which opened in August 2006. The project includes the Hawks Championship Center and new outdoor practice fields to benefit each of NU's 23 varsity programs, along with an expansion of Memorial Stadium that lifted capacity above 80,000 for the first time in the building's history.

Pederson's vision has made the Osborne Athletic Complex the showcase piece of the project. The complex will benefit all Nebraska student-athletes as it will include state-of-the-art training, sports nutrition and athletic medicine facilities in the Charles and Romona Myers Performance Center.

With the improvements, Pederson has also ensured the Husker Nation a fan-friendly environment at Memorial Stadium. New fan amenities this year include increased numbers of concession stands and restrooms, improved seating options for the disabled and a concourse-level connector that brings the North Stadium together with the East and West. Fans will also be able to enjoy one of the nation's largest big screens during the Tunnel Walk, one of college football's most grand entrances.

The new facilities will benefit some of the top athletic squads in the country. During the 2005-06 seasons, 15 of Nebraska's 23 varsity sports finished the year ranked in the national top 25.

The Huskers' nationally renowned volleyball team led the way, as it reached the NCAA title game for the fifth time in school history. The volleyball team's runner-up finish tied the rifle program for the best national team placing on the year, while the women's outdoor track and field (fourth) and women's gymnastics (fifth) teams each finished in the top five. Individually, Nebraska student-athletes have flourished in recent years, including 37 Huskers earning 48 All-America certificates last season.

Pederson has pushed the Huskers to uphold their unparalleled tradition and remain at the forefront in the classroom as well as on the field. Last year, 11 Cornhuskers earned CoSIDA Academic All-America honors, raising Nebraska's NCAA-leading total to 233. Over two semesters, 479 student-athletes earned Big 12 Commissioner's Honor Roll accolades with a 3.0 or better grade-point average, while 126 Huskers claimed academic All-Big 12 honors and 111 earned their degree.

Pederson is an award-winning athletic director with experience at four prominent Division I schools. He has implemented his vision for the future of Nebraska, which includes three vital components to success: a staff that will outwork the competition; enhancing facilities in order to attract the nation's best student-athletes; and a unified approach to enable student-athletes to succeed in all facets of life.

Nebraska's championship tradition has been built by outstanding student-athletes and coaches over the years, but Pederson believes the foundation of Nebraska's success is its fans – not only the 1.7 million people who call the state home, but also fans who support NU from around the nation.

Since December 2002, Pederson has worked hard to integrate Husker fans into the NU athletic program. He declared the 2003-04 season the "Year of the Fan" and conceptualized the first Husker Nation Tour. He also developed the Husker Nation Pavilion for fans to enjoy a family-friendly atmosphere before home football games.

From creating the nation's first comprehensive strength program to its nationally renowned academic support system, Nebraska has always been at the forefront in providing unmatched resources for its student-athletes. Pederson is continuing that tradition as he has shown the foresight and vision needed to ensure long-term success for athletic programs, both at Pittsburgh and Nebraska.

Pederson's efforts have the interests of the student-athletes in mind. He has implemented support programs to aid student-athlete's academic, athletic, personal and professional development. In order to assist student-athletes with their postgraduation pursuits, he worked with Assistant Athletic Director for Student Life Keith Zimmer to enhance Nebraska's nationally recognized Life Skills program. They created the Life Skills Award for the team that demonstrated the strongest commitment to all phases of the life skills program, including outreach, education and leadership.

In January of 2004, Pederson hired Bill Callahan to guide the Husker football program back to elite status. Recognized nationally as one of the brightest minds in football, Callahan came from the NFL's Oakland Raiders, where he led the franchise to an AFC title and a berth in Super Bowl XXXVII in his first season as head coach.

Pederson's second coaching hire came on Aug. 8, 2006, when he tabbed Doc Sadler to guide the men's basketball program. In Sadler, Pederson found a new coach with an engaging personality and an ability to recruit and move players to the next level. Sadler was also a proven winner on the court with a sparkling two-year record of 48-18, including 27 wins in his debut season that rank seventh all-time in NCAA history.

A firm believer in the philosophy that hard work pays off, Pederson was given his first chance at leading a Division I program when he was hired as athletic director at the University of Pittsburgh in 1996. A young and relatively unknown commodity at the time, Pederson returned the Panthers to the national spotlight in just six years. As a result of his hard work and effective leadership style, Pederson was named the recipient of the 2002 General Robert R. Neyland Athletic Director Award, annually presented by the All-American Football Foundation for outstanding administrative achievement.

Pederson helped construct several new facilities at Pittsburgh, including shaping the vision of the Petersen Events Center, a convocation center that provided Pittsburgh with one of the finest college basketball arenas in the country. Behind Pederson's efforts, the Panther football team was blessed with the Duratz Athletic Complex and the UPMC Sports Performance Complex, a practice venue that opened in 2000. In 2001, the Panthers debuted Heinz Field, a new facility the football team shares with the Steelers. Pederson also oversaw major upgrades to several Olympic sport facilities.

During his tenure at Pittsburgh, Pederson hired six coaches who combined to earn Big East Coach-of-the-Year honors in football, men's basketball, women's basketball, volleyball, baseball and track and field. Under Pederson's head coaching hires, the football team made three straight bowl appearances, including two victories, while the men's basketball team went on to gain back-to-back Sweet 16 berths.

Pederson and his wife, Tami, both earned degrees from the University of Nebraska. Steve earned his bachelor's degree from Nebraska in business administration in 1980 and began his career at Nebraska, first as a sports information assistant (1980-81) and then as football recruiting coordinator (1982 to 1986). He returned as the associate athletic director for football operations from 1994 to 1996.

Pederson left the state in 1988 to serve as Ohio State's recruiting coordinator until 1991, then moved on to the University of Tennessee to devote three years as the athletic administrator for football. He was promoted from recruiting coordinator to assistant athletic director for recruiting in 1992, and then was elevated to associate athletic director for football operations in 1993.

A native of North Platte, Neb., Pederson has experience in the non-athletic business sector, spending one year as Ak-Sar-Ben's Public Relations Director (1981-82), and two years in private business in Nebraska (1986 to 1988), before returning to college football in 1988 at Ohio State.

Pederson and his wife Tami Osborne Pederson have three children: Mark (23), Kari (20) and Kristin (17).

The University of Nebraska reserves the right to examine the contents of any container brought into the Devaney Center. Random searches may be conducted. Limited use of cameras and portable radios is permitted, but game action cannot be filmed. Flash photography is not permitted.

Wheel Club Providers

Automobile dealers in Nebraska and Iowa are contributing in a large measure to help the Nebraska athletic program through the loan of courtesy cars. This project enables the Nebraska Athletic Department to make greater use of its funds. These sports-minded dealers around the state have earned a debt of gratitude from the University of Nebraska Athletic Department. They are an important part of the 'team' that includes players, coaches, administration, faculty, staff, students, alumni, the Husker Educational Award Group, the Husker Award Club and the courtesy car program.

There is No Place Like Nebraska

There is no place like Nebraska,
Dear old Nebraska U,
Where the girls are the fairest,
The boys are the squarest,
Of any old place that you knew.
There is no place like Nebraska,
Where they're all true blue,
We'll all stick together in all kinds of weather,
For dear old Nebraska U.

Hail Varsity

Hail to the team,
The stadium rings as everyone sings,
The scarlet and cream.
Cheer on for victory
Echo your loyalty,
So on mighty men,
The eyes of the land,
Upon every hand are looking at you.
Fight on to victory,
Hail the men of Nebraska U.
